Report

The institute conducted a Best Out of Waste Session on Monday 12th August as a part of various environment friendly initiatives and awareness programs. The activity was conducted by Ms. Rashmi Joshi, an environmental consultant for various educational institutions for environment related activities as well as waste management.

The students were shown live examples of how waste materials like plastic and glass bottles can be turned into artworks, pen holders and planters. They were shown some simple examples that they can implement at home with minimum cost and effort.

The activity was organized and conducted by the institute's Community Service Unit.
