Our educational institutions are open to all those who have a burning desire to make brilliant careers.

We at Maratha Mandir recognize that today the businesses organizations exist in highly composite environment; the term VUCA describes it appropriately because the markets are Volatile, Uncertain, Complex and Ambiguous. Organizations prefer to hire qualified management professionals who are capable of overcoming the various challenges of keeping the ventures on a path of growth. We at Maratha Mandir have recognized this actuality, and provide a conducive learning environment though practical and adaptable pedagogy and skill development to bridge the industry-institute gap. ## About Maratha Mandir

Maratha Mandir - a charitable institution was established in 1945 by a few men of vision who perceived that the forthcoming Independence by itself would not bring back the glorious past of India, with over 80% of its populace living in rural areas without education. They recognized the need of the hour and setup a strong institution to educate the populace, to make them aware of their rights as well as what they can be and what they can do for the nation. It was thus decided that the institution of Maratha Mandir would be open to everyone irrespective of his or her religion, caste, and language. The founders named this institution as "Maratha Mandir" the word "Maratha" to mean all those who consider Maharashtra as their domicile and the word "Mandir" to signify the purity in human life.

Late Shri G.G. Gawde, affectionately known as Babasaheb Gawde, was one such person. A visionary, with a strong zeal to educate people, he gave up a promising career in the Police Department of British India and dedicated himself to this mission. He established Maratha Mandir in 1945, a charitable institution open to one and all, irrespective of caste and creed, religion and language. Today the edifice stands tall at Mumbai Central, offering a proactive and multi-pronged program that prepares students for significant roles to play in future.
