Subject: Stake holders Suggestions on Academic Syllabus of University of Mumbai.

Sir,

The current on-going pandemic and its after effects have imposed a great challenge on the world economy. It shows that no longer just having knowledge of an academic subject is of great relevance but increasingly it is necessary for students to gain those skills which will enhance their prospects of employment. Employability skills include some of these abilities: the retrieval and handling of factual information; communication and presentation; planning and problem solving; and social development and interaction.

We at Babasaheb Gawde Institute of Management Studies have conducted a survey on curriculum of University of Mumbai from various stakeholders like Teachers, Students, Alumni and Employers. The survey covers applicability of topics in today's scenario, its coverage, and pedagogy treatment at institution.

As per the feedback received from the stakeholders it is found that the syllabi of Management stream requires immediate facelift in terms of current business scenario, necessary skill set, handling information, strategy designing and implementation etc. There is a need to include industry specific and more practical approach in the syllabi.

We request you to look in to this matter. Also, include faculties from all management institutes while upgrading the syllabus.

Thanking you,

Yours faithfully,

Dr. Vidya Hattangadi
